WORLD TRADE ASSOCIATION

A service of the MMAC

MMAC World Trade Association's Global Business Series
"Finance & Mitigating Risk"

Speaker profile -
Bridget Bredemann; Director in the Rates and Currencies Solutions group, a division of Capital Markets within Bank of America

Bridget Bredemann is a Director in the Rates and Currencies Solutions group, a division of Capital Markets within BofA. She is responsible for delivering foreign exchange and interest rate risk management solutions to middle market companies in Illinois and Wisconsin. Over the past nine years, she has worked with clients all across the Central Region in various industries including Automotive, Consumer, Technology, Real Estate and Financial Institutions. Bridget is an active member of a Power of 10 Women's Group as well as the BofA Women's Leadership Council in Chicago, serving as Co-Chair for the WLC Analyst Circle. She originally joined Bank of America in the summer of 2011 as a Summer Analyst in the Sales
& Trading Rotational Program. She graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 2012 with a BA in Finance. Outside of work, Bridget is on the President's Leadership Council at Loyola Academy and also a volunteer at Catholic Charities. Her interests include golf, the Chicago Cubs, Irish music, travel, and spending time with family and friends.